Festival flavours

This weekend, check out the Thames Festival's food events. On Saturday, Southwark Bridge will be closed to traffic for a special Feast on the Bridge fandango. Expect stalls with seasonal produce and music from bands including the footstomping Cut a Shine. Nearby, the Fairtrade Village is open all weekend, hosted by fairtrade producers including Divine

Chocolate to celebrate London's move towards becoming a fairtrade city. Feast on the Bridge, Sat, 12-10pm, Southwark Bridge, SE1; Fairtrade Village, Sat-Sun, 10am-9.30pm, Hibernia Wharf, opp Southwark Cathedral, SE1, thamesfestival.org

Mojito mix

Sadly, the credit crunch means we may have to cut back on swanky cocktails. But if you crave a mojito, Funkin offers a range of DIY mixes in dozens of flavours, and its website has video tutorials for classic cocktails. 99p for 120g sachet, funkin.co.uk, Waitrose, Selfridges, Harrods

Wiles of Skye

Swapping restaurants is a new cheffy fad. Skye Gynge has left Richmond for sunny Oz, handing over her Petersham Nurseries eaterie to Sydney's Sean Moran. As she waves bye-bye, take a squint at her new book.
